

INPUTS International Symposium
University of Bremen, City University of Applied Sciences, Bremen, 4-5 May 2018
“Karl Marx, Marxism, and the Global South”
Venue: City University of Applied Sciences, Neustadtswall 30, 28199 Bremen, S11/S12

FRIDAY, 4 MAY
8:00-9:00	Registration
9:00-9:30	Opening remarks Hans-Heinrich Bass (City University of Applied Sciences, Bremen) Detlev Quintern (INPUTS, FSMV University, Istanbul) Ulrich Krueger, Vice Dean of the Faculty of Economics and Business, City University of Bremen, AS Marcus Callies, Vice Dean of the Faculty of Linguistics and Literary Studies, University of Bremen Kerstin Knopf (INPUTS, University of Bremen)
9:30-11:00	Chair: Hans H. Bass Aditya Nigam (Centre for the Studies of Developing Societies, New Delhi): “Uneven Development” and Historical Time: Marxism’s Encounter with the Global South Robbie Shilliam (Queen Mary University, London): The Slave Analogy and the Proletariat: Whose Radical Agency?
11:00-11:30	Coffee Break
11:30-13:30	Chair: Detlev Quintern Yakov Rabkin (University of Montreal): Marxism and Zionism: an Uneasy Relationship Salah Mosbah (University of Tunis): Saïd et ses critiques ou de la difficile déoccidentalisation de Marx Seyed Javad Miri (Institute of Humanities and Cultural Studies Tehran): Shariati’s Reading of Karl Marx: An Iranian Perspective
13:30-14:30	Lunch (City University Canteen, Neustadtswall 30)
14:30-16:30	Chair: Kerstin Knopf Heide Gerstenberger (University of Bremen): The enduring reality of forced labor. A challenge to the theoretical and philosophical legacy of Karl Marx Detlev Quintern (FSMV University, Istanbul): Beyond Imperiocene? Justice after Marx Hans-Heinrich Bass (City University of Applied Sciences, Bremen): The legacy of Marx – social utopian ideas that go beyond global capitalism?
16:30-17:00	Coffee Break
17:00-17:45	Public presentation Johann-Guenther Koenig (Bremen): Friedrich Engels in Bremen
18:00-20:00	Public Podium Discussion “Karl Marx, Marxism, and the Global South” Participants: Salah Mosbah, Aditya Nigam, Yakov Rabkin, Robbie Shilliam, Detlev Quintern Moderation: Kerstin Knopf
app. 20:30	Conference Dinner

SATURDAY, 5 MAY
9:30-11:00	Young scholars forum – Chair: Kerstin Knopf Muhammed Afzal (University of Hyderabad): Revolution as (melo)drama: Marxism and the Domain of the Popular in Kerala, South India –video presentation-- Deborah Nyangulu (Westfälische Wilhelms-Universität Münster): Marxism and Utopian Visions in Contemporary African Literature John Masabo (East China NU Shanghai): African Marxism: German, Russian, or Chinese Marxism?
11:00-11:30	Coffee Break
11:30-13:00	Chair: Heide Gerstenberger Sergio Costa (Freie Universität Berlin) / Guilherme Leite Goncalves (Universidade Estadual do Rio de Janeiro): Meeting Karl Marx at the Port of Rio de Janeiro. From Primitive to Global Entangled Accumulation Andreas Wittel (Nottingham Trent University): Marx and the digital commons in the Global South
13:00-14:00	Lunch (Catering)
14:00-15:30	Young scholars forum – Chair: Detlev Quintern Jakob Graf (Friedrich-Schiller-University Jena): The Anatomy of the South – Marx’ turn towards a theory of dependency and power Antara Chakrabarty (Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi): The Question of Labour: An analysis of classic texts from Braverman to Burawoy Muzaffa Kaya (TU Berlin): The Contribution of Hikmet Kıvılcımlı to Marxist Historiography
15:30-16:00	Coffee Break
16:00-17:30	Young scholars forum – Chair: Hans H. Bass Kolja Lindner (University Paris VIII) and Urs Lindner (University of Erfurt): Why We Should Get Rid of Historical Materialism Ramzi Darouiche (City University of Applied Sciences, Bremen): Peripheral non-simultaneities and the Arab Spring: A historical-materialistic approach to North Africa Najeeb V R , Jawaharlal Nehru University: Understanding Labour: A Study of Tea Plantations in Wayanad, Kerala –video presentation--
18:00-20:00	Self-Pay Dinner
21:00	Public Film Screening Raoul Peck, dir. Der junge Marx (2017) (Cinema im Ostertor, Ostertorsteinweg 105) Tickets: 6/8 Euro

Financial support for the conference by the Wolfgang-Ritter-Stiftung, Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung, the Faculty of Economics and Business of the City University of Applied Sciences Bremen, the Faculty 10 and the Research Network “Worlds of Contradiction” of the University of Bremen, and the Foundation of the University of Bremen is gratefully acknowledged.

Useful contact information

Detlev Quintern: 0090 543 598 44 52 (Turkey)

Kerstin Knopf: 0049 151 5560 9663

Hans-Heinrich Bass: 0049 170 298 5952

Christoph Schram (student assistant): 0049 176 2440 3201

Taxi Service: 0049 421 14014 / Police: 110 / Fire service (Feuerwehr): 112 / Ambulance (Rettungswagen): 112

