

On the coexistence of multiple pluralization strategies - an explorative cross-linguistic survey

Thomas Stolz

(Bremen)

The talk addresses different patterns of competition in the domain of number marking with special focus on pluralization on nouns. The question is raised what determines the co-existence of several functionally equivalent options in a given language. Scenarios from a variety of languages from different parts of the world are presented and discussed.